EDCELLERGE IN EDUCATION 1984-85

BHS Nationally Recognized For Excellence

Winkel Goes To Washington

As the Marine Corps Hand played softly in the background 50 proud principals assembled on the south lawn of the White House. They came from all around the country to be received by President Ronald Reagan and Secretary of Education William Bennett to be honored for excellence in education. Berea High was proud to be one of the 281 schools honored. Mr. Paul Winkel, along with Miss Bonnie Brown, Chairman of the English Department, Mr. John Youel, Chairman of the Social Studies Department, Dr. Richard Andrisek, Superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Evelyn Wilden, President of the board of Education, went to Washington D.C. on October 1, 1985 to receive a flag, bearing the words, "Excellence in Education", from Secretary Ben-

After a year of hard work it had all paid off. During the year of 1986-85 Berea High went through a series of steps to reach this high honor. Starting with an 18 page application and culminating with an observation from Dr. Larry Bowers.

As a way of showing his appreciation, Mr. Winkel gave all the faculty and staff a pin resembling the flag of excellence, because they "all played a role in getting it".

As a result of this award Berea High received attention from the media, such as being on the Joel Rose AM radio show, and making the second page of The Plain Dealer.

This award has brought a sense of pride to the students, and faculty of Berea High, and to the tri-community.

Excellence in Education Recognized at last

When the news broke of Berea's recognition there was a feeling of satisfaction and bliss, but when the confetti was cleared away, and the champagne was put back on ice, many people were asking why? Why Berea? The answer should be obvious.

Berea received the honor because of its outstanding programs, both academic and athletic. The graduating class of 1985 received over $1,000,000 in scholarships. Including these, the Department of Education also liked the way the school recognized and communicated with the students. For instance, the establishment of the Academic Excellence Card for the top 20 seniors. The establishment of the Academic Hall of Fame for National Ment Finalists and students in the top 1% of the senior class. The students also had a chance, once a month to talk with Principal Winkel about concerns that they had, at the Principal's Breakfast. A Talented and Gifted Pilot Membership Program, which is unequalled in the area. The outstanding vocal and instrumental groups which earn high ratings to every contest they perform in

The Power and the Glory of Berea

Flow many schools can say they had an athlete go to state every year in the last 20 years. Berea can! Our athletic program enjoys a long tradition of excellence. In recent years the gymnastics team won the state championship while our football and track squads have been state runner-ups. Individual honors have come in swimming and diving, cross country, track, wrestling, and tennis.

Much of this success can be attributed to the hard work and desire by the athletes themselves.

It takes a lot of dedication to endure the long hours of practice and conditioning necessary to be among the best in your sport.

Much of the success can also be attributed to the dedication of the coaching staffs that teach and motivate the hundreds who participate each year. Finally much credit for the spectacular success of the sports program goes to the parents, booster clubs, and community that lends their support. GO BRAVES!

B.H.S. A Fun Place to Be

Ging to a school that is recognized for excellence is fun because that way you think you re going to get a better education, said Freshman Wayne Hart. And he's right! Har school can be "the place to be" Just think about all the enjoyment you've lad over the years. The friends that you've made, the laughs and the tears that have been shared

Remember the stands, where you veiled curungs out cheering the team on to viscos the ever-memorable Student Nights, the plays that made you sad and glad, the dances we cregot to dance with that special someone. The teachers who could take a joke or listen to that weak excuse as to why you were late to class of time (but I really was at the yearbook office)

Organizations, the lifeblood of Berea High

What would life be like without organizations? Chaotic? Boring? Dull? Imagine Berea High devoid of organizations. A prefty frightening thought, isn't it? Just think about it, no organizations means no lasting memories, for there would be no yearbook. No dances because Student Council wouldn't be there to make their happen.

What about all the other little things that make life around here if at much easier. There would be no Ski Club with whom to spend hours of fun in the snow. No ATS to make friends will from all around the world.

And where would the community be without Berea's organizations. National Honor Society for helping the needy at Christmas time or singing carols, Key Club and RSVP for aiding the community by doing any kind of service they can that benefits al

Professionalism — Pride — Performance

What images come to mind when thinking of a reacher? Volcanos, elephants, or spiders? Apparently Governor Celeste conjures those views as he described a reacher as having 'the energy of a volcano, the efficiency of an adding machine, the memory of an elephant, the under standing of a psychiatrist, the wisdom of Solomon, the tenacity of a spider the decisiveness of a general, and the diplomacy of an ambassador. The staff amply hills this description. Of this dedicated staff, four were nominated as Teucher of the Year for our district, and there are Jennings Scholars on staff. These and the rest dedicated

Many teachers go the extra mile for both the students and themselves. Mr. Steve Brown and Mrs. Jane Kalns collaborated on the creation of a new Advanced Physics and Chemistry course for those semors who have a ready taken a year of both and who find the need to torture their minds once again. Mr. Everett Ray for all the time spent training and educating students in and out of the theatre. BHS News 1985-86

Every year there are individuals and students groups that are recognized for excellence in many different contests and competitions. This year was exceptional in the number of awards to BHS

In the second year of its existence, the BHS Academic Hall of hame was enshrined with six young women, two of them National Mer it Finansts. In other acade on the Sharon Wesoky competed at the state debate tournament. The Student Council was selected by the Ohio Association of Student Council to host a workshop for student council members from all over the state.

This year's music department received honor after honor. The Meistersingers received an "I at state, proving themselves one of Ohio's best choral groups. The new Berea High School Orchestra was selected for National competition in Florida and received second place at the competition. The National phonic Winds went to the National Band Competition in Virginia Beach and came back with the title of Ohio's best band

In sports, one more national competition was the focus of attention. The basketball cheerleaders were sent to National Cheerleader competition, which was held (once action) in Florida John Pianca Anna National and Tami Anter went to receive and Tami Anter went to der placed sixth in the state track meet in the long jump. Academics

As one reflects upon the classes gone by certain memories and incidents will stick in one's mind. For some, it will be the day the school received the award of excellence, or the day the student received a pin from the principal for leadership and caring. Some will remember their AmTrad essays that they stayed up all night the night before it was due trying desperately to finish, others will remember sleeping through Honors Government as they try to recover from their educational visit to the nation's capitol. Some will remember the trist time they had to disect an anima, or bake their first load of bread. Still others will remember the teacher who, although he or she was the hardest, taught the student the most made them think and want to succeed. Many things will be remembered from high school, for some little things that are animps reant to others. But one memory of the academic year will be remembered by all and that's when Mr. Winkel announces to the class "Congratulations Graduating Seniors."

The Root of All Excellence

In the beginning there was.."(cops wrong story). At the beginning of the 1985-86 school year (that a better) everything seemed to be going along smoothly, what with receiving an award for excellence, and the second year of the freshmen invasion, everything appeared to be as it should. However change is a constant in life and there were a few changes in the administration and its policies.

In June of 86 Principal Paul Winkel and the faculty of Berea had to bid a fond farewell to Assistant Principal Mr. Dave Minich, as he moved on to the position of principal of Westfake High. With Mr. Minich's departure a change in administrators had to take place. Mr. William Thompson was still head of activities, but Mr. Buman assumed Mr. Minich's now vacated position. This made people wonder — "Who could ever heplace Could Billiam?" "Who would be the next to be beamed up to the Europe see The fearless honor of being the disciplinarian, and holder of the ways catalkie was bestowed upon one Jack Seemuth, former disciplinarian in the Roehm Middle School Policies also changed during the third year of the Winkel administration. In-School- Probation (ISP) was replaced by after school detentions. Now instead of missing a whole day of classes for your transgression you had to stay after school for an hour with Mr. Bob Youngblood and Mr. Glein Hennis. Due to a crackdown on shabby excuses as to why you were roaming the hallways during classes the detentions were readily hands out, (thank you Mr. Gerrick) Also, a new change in the afterschool policy took place. Due to the break-in of the yearbook office and the subsequent removal of some yearbooks, and because of some afterschool fight in the administration put into effect a new law requiring that all structure involved in an afterschool activity had to vacate the premises by the later than 3.30 or face disciplinary action. Needless to say these "trespassing laws" were not to popular with some people.

Even with these changes the year was still successful and it also reaffirmed the reasons why Berea received the award for excellence

Polaris: A Decade of Service

Polaris Vocational Center has of fered residents of the school district a unique deminsion in education since its completion in 1975. In the past 10 years Polaris has granted certificates of completion to over 3,800 high school graduates. These roung people meet standards of graduation from their home high schools and at the same reaction plete a state approved course of study in a vocational program. This cast 225 Berea students attend Polaris and had a choice in takin.

two-year vocational programs. Since 1975 the Pouris Adult Division has served nearly 65,000 persons in their late afternoon and evening programs.

The payoff comes in the spring when seniors are ready for the job market. During the last nine-week grading period qualified students are placed on jobs related to their vocational training. Thus, they gain valuable on-the-job experience along with the fun experience of cashing a well earned paycheck rganizations. There is a contradictory term if ever one has been said. It seems that what is supposed to be organized looks disordered and in some cases dismembered but as leaders of organizations will say it is what is known as organized chaos." Some organizations must contend with low membership while others have a multitude of people but only a few who want to work. Still, even with problems of this sort the organizations put out some pretty impressive stuff, be it a newspaper yearbook helping hand to teachers and students or a dance. Next time you see an organization and wonder at how things get done join up and you'll agree it may be organized chaos" but at least it gets the job done.

A S.A.D.D.SUCCESS STORY

For a first year program it was very successful, these words were spoken by Me. Harl Evans as he spoke of the new program to stop drunk. driving among students. The SADD chapter at Berea High had about twenty very active members who tried to reach the students with the simple message that driving drunk is not right and also that friends should drive their friends home if they're intoxicated

Several activities were done throughout the year which included an appearance by the President of the Berea S.A.D.D. chapter. June Anter, on the Big Chuck and Little John Show. Julie along with Vice-President Julic Evans, and Secretary Tame Anter also appeared on W.H.K. radio to discuss the benefits of having dry parties. The Berea S.A.D.D. chapter also held a car wash latter ded a SADD seminar at the Front Row Theater where the group met Michael Stanley. The group also made packets for the New Year's Holiday which were passed out at area supermarkets, these packets discussed the substitution of non-alcoholic drinks over acohol-

The SADD chapter's first year was a great success and the hope for the future is that it will continue to grow and get its message out to more and more people. And that message is a simple one of you must drink don't drive drunk, find a friend to take von home.

A good WALL STREET JOUR NAL is hard to come by in the halls of Berea High. In response to the cry from students for news of reality, Berea 11 21 published the Focus This paper contained many features not seen in the likes of the WALL STREET JOURNAL, contests, students exerts sports, philosophical essays, poetry, and pleas for staff members (the number of staff four issue period). Four times the presses rolled, four times the dedicated staff attempted to sell the newspapers at the rate of 10° a copy. The high sales were not reached with rebellious essays and criticism of administration, but with the traditional final issue. The Senior Class Will.

he feel of the final yards toward a touchdown, the final goal which marks a last second victory, the missed overhead smash or the missed basket which resulted in a loss—these and many memories are remembered by the people involved in sports activities. The agonizingly long practice sessions tuning the athlete for the big game, the shouts of encouragement from coaches and friends all stay with the athlete long after the event is over. Ten, twenty years from now as the athlete looks over a trophy perhaps or a news article about hanself or the team he will remember and reflect apon all the hatd work and determination that got him it ere and he will be happy that at least in a flicker of high school life, he was a star

The 1985-86 cheerleaders carried on their long tradition of superior competition. All 6 squads arrended the National Cheerleading Association camps, and there both of the varsity squads competed amongst the top 5 for the "Award of Excellence." Also, the football squad placed third at the Rio Grande camp and the Basketball squad achieved the highest award at the Sesquense Camp in Pennsylvania

After attaining this prestigious recognition, they were invited to compete against the nation's best cheerleaders in Orlando, Florida. Proving their quality, the first squad ever to be sent from Berea achieved third place.

Amy Barta summed up the entire year when she commented. Being one of the winting recreiters was definitely exciting! This year we're the best ever, but next year, we'll make it better!

Berea — Midpark, Conference Co-Champs

A 6-4 season was good enough for the Pioneer Conference Co-cham pionship but below expectations for the proud Braves. Our winning tradition suffered as we lost to arch-rival Midpark in the season finale. The squad could be characterized as solid but not spectacular, aggressive but not overpowering.

The defense kept us in most games after the early season loss of quarterback, Dom Citigliano. The forward pass became a pote of licrost the offense as several scores came through the late High passage of the season were so id conference wins over good teams from Strong strong loses came at the hands of St. Ignation and Midpark

The J V-s also ended the season as Pioneer Conference Co-champs with at 8-2 record. The North Olmsted game was especially thrilling. The Braves nied the game in regulation time with a last second field goal by Brad Burns, then went on to win in overtime 35-34. Kevin Adams was the scoring leader with 14 TD's and 850 yards for the season.

Student Life

A lthough high school is a place for reading, writing and arithmetic, it shouldn't overrun growing, living and learning. Never in the history of high school has a biology lab caused more of a stir than a jazz concert third mod. Rarely, if ever, has a student felt the need to conquer MOBY DICK over a football game. And how many students would opt for math class over the Foreign Language Olympics. The ever important government final may be forgotten and lost among the debris but the sign of graduation, and tassle, will hang, immortalized, from the rear view mirror

Freshmen Dominate Intramurals

The top four out of five homerooms in the intramutals competition were Freshman homerooms led by Mrs. Kalns group and Mrs, Cherwons group. Could the reason for this be that they are more athletic or is it that they are the only ones who have time to stay after school to compete. The true answer is probably the combination of great enthusiasm and Freshman pride

Intramutal events include a variety of activities that calls for a variety of athletic talents. They include the ever popular Tug-of-war, pool shooting, darts, horseshoes, bowling, and even trisbee tossing. There are thirteen events in althat are run by Mr. Starkey and Mr. Humpal. Once again, the Juniors took on the challer only this time they were Seniors and had a tradition to keep — win the game, or else forever look down at their feet should a Junior pass them by in the halls. The game commenced. The sacred mod of the Berex Braves ground was churned, splashed, spudged and generally disturbed until there was more of it on the players than on the field. Back to the Future

The week of Apri. 18th to Max sed was Student Council's last chance to demonstrate to the school their skill at building spirit Once again T W.I.R.P. week came back to Berea High. As far as TWIRP's go it was like most of them have been in recent years. The week began with everyone's favor ite. Nerd day. As usual not too many of Berea's uppercrust wished to remember this bit of history so therefore, this day went by largely andergressed. Tuesday, ah Tues day, being Concert t-shirt day, a day so apropos with student's ward robes that a larger quantity of spir t was displayed. Wednesday it arked the pinnacle of spirit as the majority of Berea's population decked their hodies with an array of colors and

Hold That TAGer

Once upon a time there was a woman named Dr. Rei a Cattron. Dr. Cattron had a dream that students who were gifted and talented in some way would become part of a program that would allow them to learn more than in just a regular school. Unfortunately when the program was put into action, the only students who were recognized were those who were talented and gifted academically. In the 85-86 school year, Mrs. Barbara Youel (high school TAG) outdinator) added to the silver the recognition of students exceptional in the arts. This was cited as a major accomplishment by many students involved in the program. One student was quoted as saying, "I think its great that we're letting people in that do more than

Also new to TAG was a new style of seminars. A group panel came in and spoke in a "large group" style (much like AmTrad), followed by a small group session (also AmTradish). One TAGer said, "The new seminars help one to understand to topic discussion much better - it's more indepth than before." The system was changed to satisfy the hunger for understanding that TAG students have. Also added this year was the Community Internship program. This was made as a step between shadow ng and mentorships, for the student who does not have a 4.00 GPA, yet wishes something more in-depth than a one day shadowing. For the thirty hours committed, one receives 44 credit

These changes caused greater enthusiasm among TAG students. As the year progressed, TAGers became more involved. Dr. Cattron's dream had he students of Berea High. A diversified group indeed. As the years separate turther from high school, the only memories that will be left are those of the friends that were lett behind. People will torget the score of the Berea Mispark. game a lot sooner than they will torget the person who was there every morning with a bright big smile, radiating happiness and friendship. The winners of the Foreign Language Olympics will be eclipsed by the memory of the person who was always there when you needed them. The newspaper clipping with your name in it usually misspened doesn't last nearly as long as the lasting bond of friendship and commeraderie that develops and grows during the tender years of high school

"Fresh" intro

IT'S OVER'! At last. After a year of running from class to class, hoping to get a lunch table and the endless reply from the upperclassmen. It must be a freshman." So what's wrong with being a freshman. Everyone was one in some life of another. You can't make it without being a freshman. This year prepares you for what is to come. All the work you will have to do, and the reward that comes with it. And the way people will treat you.

But it hasn't been that bad. You have to start somewhere! And just think next year we can be sophomores! (applause, applause

90 students + 4 chaperones + Washington D.C = fun, fun, fun' Accompanied by four chaperones and two unique bus drivers, the group slept and "rapped" on the seven hour bus tide. Upon arrival the students had just enough time to unpack and recay. But who relaxed. The weather unlike other years, was in the 70's and the jams and sungrasses were fast to appear.

After enjoying the sun the students boarded the buses promptly and began their whirlwind of tours. Dinner at Hogate's was the first stop, a popular Washington restaurant noted more for its are osphere than its cuisine. The monument tours then began, giving many a natural high

Other sights taken in were, the Smithsonian Institution, the Kennedy Center the White House, and the Capitol, where the group met with Congresswoman Mary Rose Oakar By far the most serious moment of the trip was when the group touted Arlington Cemetary; observing the changing of the guard and then watching in a cut memorial as classmate Stephanie Jefferis presented the group's wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier Although few wanted to return to Berea, much celebration occurred Tuesday might, the groups last night. Among the reasons for telebrating the seniors celebrated the fact that their trip had indeed been fit for a King — and more!

Hey Brother, can you spare a pint? Twice each year, there are two events everyone can be sure of, the two equinoxes and the semi-annual bloodmobile. Mrs. Pat Lauria, in charge of RSVP, in conjunction with the Red Cross perform the valuable task of collecting blood. For the past several years the goal for the amount of blood collected has been set at 200 pints but on December 13th, 1985 Berea High only collected 168 pints. Mrs. Lauria stated that there are two possible explanations for this. The first being that the class of '86 is one of the smallest senior classes in recent years with a student body numbering 475 With a class this size there may not be enough people that meet the requirements to be a donor. In order for a student to be a donor one must be 17 years of age, weigh at least 110 lbs. and be in general good health. The second reason Mrs. Lauria feels that turnout may have been low is due to a reluctancy to donate for fear of AIDS," AIDS, acquired immune deficienty syndrome, reached epidemic proportions in '85 and caused a general stiramong the population due to too much media hype. The media allowed talse information and misconceptions about AIDS be released to the people. As a result the collection of blood products dropped far below normal. The fact is that although AIDS is transferred through the blood stream, it cannot be transferred to a person who is simply giving blood, with transfusions the risk is there but not in donating

The Red Cross requires 840 pints of blood a day to maintain the supply necessary to help everyone in need of blood supplies. Mrs. Lauria feels that until a cure is found for AIDS, blood collecting will be a problem. However, she still feels strongly about the project. With only 5% of the population being blood donors it is the hope of Mrs. Lauria and the Red Cross that if the young people begin to give blood they will continue to do so all their adult lives. The volunteers who work the bloodmobiles do everything they can to make that first time donating a good experience so the person keeps on donating.

The demand for blood products grow on a monthly basis and its up to the young people to begin donating and help out the Red Cross in this monumentous project

Searching for Identity

The Junior class, according to who you talk to, has many personalities. In reality it was not much different from classes gone by There were flashes of great success and on occasion, disappointment. There was a slow start in fund raising but the Holly Hop was as memorable as always

The real memories, however come from the joys of AmTrad, pitting Mr. Conservative against Mr. Liberal, and the ever memorable for ture — the ISP. And who could forget the chemistry tests and that hornd trigonometry. Can I selyou a coupon book or a Valentine's Day Sucker.

Tim Krevinko may have summed up the personality of the class when he said it "can do anything they want to if they put their minds to it because we have the people and the intelligence." Amy Oisen also saw a lot of good persus in the class when she said. "I have a lot of them is who make me laugh and feel good — friends I will need in the coming years

Will the real "Class of 87" come forward maybe next year

The Senior class of '85-86 reached for the stars all three years at Berea High, and filled the halfs with enthusiasm and triumph as they attained their goals. As a close knit class from beginning to end the class accomplished activities such as selling Berea's spirit with pom-poms, pennants and buttons, jumping with the Karate Kid and celebrating that "Life is a beach" at the all school beach party. On top of all this the class jammed at the Battle of the Bands in the ultimate status of wearing a "Seniors 86" t shirt.

This year's Seniors were also able to cherish the more serious more to so of the year. Our dedication to the Berea graduates who fought in the Vietnam was showed our inner feelings for those dead or missing in action. This type of ceremony brought us all closer together. Togetherness though its sometimes lost us we felt the loss of class member Tom Victor. Here we are again reminded of our precious friendships.

Our year hit its peak when the excitement of graduation began to set in but as our last day came to greet us we started to wish for "One More Night." Our spirit for Berea will stay within us forever, and help us to remember that these are the best years of our lives"

Berea High — 100 Years of Tradition

Imagine if you can of a graduating class of ten. That's a far cry from the 400's and 500's of recent years. Well, on June 4, 1886 the first Berea. High commencement took place as ten seniors were graduated. The commencement of 1886 was quite different from the one in 1986 as in 1886 each member of the class performed either a musical piece or read an original essay or poem. Well, one hundred years later things have changed a bit. The commencement exercises have moved from Hulet Hall to the Ursprung Gymnasium and the graduates no longer get to perform anything, if they did it would take a year.

just to get through commencement. Although in the un-airconditioned comfort of Ursprung it teels like a year answay

Throughout the years many things have changed, as the school got larger so did the requirements for graduating. It 1586 nine classes were needed in order to graduate. In 1986 seven-teen credits of core classes such as English, math science, social studies, and some sore of art related class are needed. The class of 1989 has to deal with a 22 credit requirement to graduate. Other changes have also occurred in the area of clubs and sports, as well as in trends and tashions. Also the school has gotten a great deal bigger than it was in 1886 and new additions have been built when the need arrived

Also in 1984 in honor of the centennial commencement the class of 86 was given specified stoils bearing the centennial symbol and the symbol of the school Berea High has possessed an air of tradition for 100 years and if what people say is true, that history repeats itself, then Berea High is destined to continue its tradition of excellence in education that Berea High is known for his final section of the book is usually passed over without a second glance as one rushes to the index to find that special someone or to see how many pages they appear on. This section meets with comments like "Boring", "Dull", or "Let's skip this part." However, this section deserves a second look for this part pays for all the other sections of the book without this one there would be no memories. So we on the vearbook staff saggest that you check out this section who knows you may find a store you've been looking for

FINAL NOTE

As copy editor I, Lee Marc Molnar, get the honor of writing the editor's note. First, the entire staff is terribly pleased with this edition of the BEREAN and hope that it stirs up special memories and times. Although, it is impossible to capture every moment of a high school year we have done our best to capture the important ones. As usual, the production of a yearbook has its problems. The missing photo, the late copythe unidentified person, the dwindling staff, the coach who lost the scorebook are all common problems to yearbook staffs. The occasional atgaments and misunderstandings among our three editors. Beverly Baul of Missi Hubler and myself only added to the confusion. But some how through it all the book was finished and we are proud of it

Our most faithfull staff members deserve special recognition for their contributions, they include Andy Pardoe, Sara Bontempo, Michelle Engiehart Gary Thaver Lisa Bess, and Carm. Veneziano. The yearbook advisors deserve praise as well. Mr. Frank Findura for helping meet the deadlines and Mr. John Mastic for making sure the finances were there to cover the cost of our argest most expensive book ever

Others who deserve special thanks are Mr John Urian, Herff Jones representative, who was so helpful as we tried new concepts throughout the book. Steffanie Jefferis, In a Pae and Kaths Ryan for coming thros. In the pinch when we needed a story or two. Dave Bowen, Wayne Lach and Debbie Dominic for their help with photography. Mrs. Beth Findura, for the dirty ob of typing the index, the mag pages, and the awards pages John Michael Studio and Portrai World of Ohio for the extra pictures and processing help. Mr. Ed Swarm for his printing help and especially unlocking the door to from 174 so many times. Lysa Balmer for writing some desperately needed copy and supplying much needed moral support. Mr. Paul Winke, for his support and input throughout the year. Al. the teachers who put up with the excuse. Well I was working on the yearbook. Especially Ms. Helen Thomas and Mr. Ron Lloyd.

Speaking for the whole staff I can say that although at times working on the books was frustrating and difficult, it still was exciting and enjoyable. Hope you enjoy it See you in another to
